RACE TRACK, ALEXANDER ISL AND, Dec. 31.-A warm wave aided ma-terially in thawing out the Alexander Island track, and the going this after-noon was holding, but safe.

The attendance was fair and twelve books looked after the business in the ring.

The horse Keramos, who fell in the last race on Saturday, was destroyed this morning. Jockey Boyle's injuries have proved more serious than expected, concussion of the brain resulting, with the chances against the boy's recovery. The distances in the first, third and fifth races were changed to half a mile, in order to avoid starting on the turns.

There seems to be a general disposition to settle definitely upon a fixed percentage. If this is done it will carry with it the implied promise not to exceed the allotment. The general opinion seems to be that when a settlement is reached, it will be on about the existing basis.

The most suggestive thing to-flay was the fact that Mr. William Joyce, General Freight Agent of the Pennsylvania, participated in the deliberations. His company has never co-operated with the other coal roads. It is understood the company has about reached the maximum of its output, and is now ready to co-operate to secure higher prices.

The eventual result will be the organization of the coal roads into an association modelled upon the lines of the Trunk Line Association. The idea is to have the affairs of the companies in working shape so as to profit by the pooling arrangement if such becomes a law.

There were various surmises to-day as to why Mr. Byrnes did such a thing, and it was thought by some to have been an act of discourtesy on the Super-intendent's part to make public the let-
